- Question and Answers

Labor Management Meeting

We will have a Labor Management meeting with Management this Friday, October 27th. In a Labor Management meeting your Union Representative, and your elected Stewards, meet with management to discuss issues that have either been problematic or could be problematic. We schedule these meetings every 3-4 months unless there is an emergent need. If you have a topic that you would like us to address on Friday, please contact me or one of your stewards.

Stewards

Ever wonder what a steward does? Here is a handy reference list!

- Answers Your Questions
- Represents YOU
- Brings Forward Concerns
- Provides Resources
- Attends Meetings
- Advocates

Your union stewards are your advocates in the workplace! They are available to answer questions you may have about the contract, working conditions, and policies. They can provide resources to help you solve problems in the workplace and to learn more about the union. They contact your Union with your concerns so we can try to solve issues quickly when they come up. Stewards attend Labor Management meetings where they can have conversations with management about issues and learn about changes that might be happening. We are in need of more stewards in departments that are not yet represented. Please consider nominating yourself at our meeting!

Your Current Stewards are:

Shannon Johnson, City Hall
Renne Moore, Police Department
Regina Tipton Llamas, Library
Pyper Stever, Library
