Union Update

Did you know that you have a right to union representation if you are called into a meeting that could lead to discipline? If you are told to attend a meeting, or you are talked to about what sounds like discipline, ask if this conversation could lead to discipline, if they answer yes, request union representation and call a steward or your union representative. Union Stewards are your coworkers that are trained to support members in the workplace.

An employer cannot take adverse actions against an employee who exercises a protected right, files, or intends to file a complaint, or who has discussed potential violations of their rights.

Your current stewards are Brandy Listerman and Matthew Hollifield.

If you are interested in learning more about being a steward or have questions, ask one of the stewards or call your union representative.
